MOSCOW, Aug. 14.—

Soviet forces driving ahead towards Warsaw and on a 60-mile front north of the Polish capital stabbed to within 11 miles of the city today and seized positions some 15 miles from the stronghold of Lomaza, south of the Mazurian lakes in East Prussia.

On the Baltic front Russian fighters drove 20 miles into southern Estonia to seize Vyru on the railroad west of Pskov. The advance of Gen. Ivan Maslennikov's army brought Soviet elements to within 36 miles of the railroad junction where the Pskov line connects with the main line to the Estonian capital of Tallinn.

Washington Roundup

(International News Service)

The British ambassador, Earl Halifax, was in Washington today after two months in England with the news that "a much larger and more deadly bomb in the form of a rocket" was expected to hit Great Britain. The tall, slender envoy, who was recently elevated to the rank of earl, indicated that the German robot bombs were worse than the general public believed. His comment was underscored by a British embassy official who said he thought the British had made "a mistake in playing down what the robot bomb has actually meant to us."

Halifax' statement was made during a conference at which Sir Alexander Cadogan, permanent under-secretary of foreign affairs, said the U. S. and Britain are in virtual agreement over the form of a post-war peace organization to be worked out at the four-power conference beginning Aug. 21 in Washington.

Expansion of state unemployment insurance systems to cover establishments with one or more workers, instead of the present minimum of eight, was foreseen today as house committees began work on the senate demobilization bill. The proposal, which would be accomplished by extending the federal three percent unemployment payroll tax, is strongly supported by War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes.

Sen. Stewart, Tenn., said today that plans are underway to give veterans the "first chance" in purchasing an estimated 100 billion dollars in surplus government war materials. He said legislation will be introduced to give returning servicemen these prior rights.

Halmahera island, which lies 330 miles south of Mindanao in the southern Philippine archipelago, seemed today as the most likely target for U. S. forces now in New Guinea in their drive to Manila and China.

Allied Air Power Making Possible Victory In France

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially For International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Allied air power has made and is making possible the present great smashing British, American and Canadian "blitz-krieg" in western France.

The war of movement has come back into its own. World war one immediately went into "trench warfare." As soon as Gen. John J. Pershing arrived in France during that combat he told his commanders that they must break out of "trench warfare," the only decisive results could be obtained in a war of movement. That was true then, and in fact always has been.

In any military war operation to be successful you must be in constant contact with your opponent and by reconnaissance you must know where your enemy is and what he is doing. When you do not know the location of your opponent and he is moving with speed, striking with great force and recklessness here, there, everywhere at targets which are unexpected to you, you of a certainty will be defeated. You cannot shift your own strength to meet the blows because you don't know where those blows will fall.

Nimitz Declares Japanese May Wilt Suddenly

By RICHARD V. HALLER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PEARL HARBOR, Aug. 14.—America had the word today of the man who has chased the Jap navy from the vast reaches of the Pacific ocean back into the very harbors from which they began their march of conquest two and a half years ago, that he wasn't "sure nor convinced" that we must invade Japan to win the war.

This statement by the commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, voiced the possibility that the Japs suddenly may wilt and fold under the combined air and sea pressure daily being increased from the Kuriles to the Marshalls.

Speaking to a new conference in his Pacific fleet headquarters, Nimitz said that the war is a new experience for the Nips, who heretofore have been on the winning side, but now that the tide has turned against them "I don't know how much more they can take before they throw in the sponge—or before they'll sue for peace."

Must Occupy Japan

He was firm in his belief, however, that America will have to occupy the Japanese mainland after the war is over.

The Pacific fleet commander revealed that all forms of offensive warfare will be used against the Japs—sea blockade, air bombardment—(Continued on Page Two)

Stilwell's Forces Are Pushing Ahead

Chinese Troops Hold Positions 14 Miles From Captured Myitkyina

KANDY, Ceylon, Aug. 14.—(INS)—Chinese troops under Gen. Joseph Stilwell held positions 14 miles south of newly won Myitkyina today in their drive to reopen land communications with China.

The Allied force, driving from Myitkyina to Bhamo, some 80 miles south of Myitkyina, have encountered lessening resistance. There is increasing evidence that the Japs are pulling out of Manipur on the Burma-India frontier.

The drive on Bhamo is designed to seize the second city in central Burma, smaller only than Mandalay. On other sectors of the north Burma front, near Taunggyi on the Mogaung-Mandalay railroad, 17 miles from Mogaung, Allied troops are operating in a countryside flooded at some places to a depth of four feet.

Nazi Seventh Army Retreats Toward Paris

Withdrawing As Fast As Possible Under Orders
Of High Command

By CLARK LEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH U. S. FORCES IN FRANCE
Aug. 14.—Under orders from the German high command, the Nazi Seventh army is withdrawing as fast as possible toward the Seine and Paris today, turning to fight only here and there along its flanks as swift moving American columns strike home.

Resistance against American units driving east from Mortain is mostly light.

Several German prisoners taken during the night wore civilian clothing and articles of U. S. uniforms under their uniforms, possibly in preparation for an attempt to save themselves as their shattered army moved back after losing its communications, much of its transport and its central command.

Smash German Columns

The weather, which has been with the Germans virtually since D-Day has turned on them and allied planes, roaring through the blue skies, are making shambles of retreating German columns.

Nazi tanks motor transport horse drawn vehicles and troop concentrations are taking a terrible beating from our planes as the German Seventh army has entered on its long withdrawal which will end no one knows where.

As the Nazi legions retreat, the climax of the great battle which began July 25 is drawing swiftly to hand. American infantry broke through German lines between St. Lo and Perrier then, holding at first only a 100-yard gap in Nazi lines. Bombers saturated the area, infantry moved in and seized the gap and toward Le Mans.

Tanks Smashed Through

The tanks smashed through to Coutances, driving to form a trap for German defenders. That first trap swiftly became a larger one set for all the Germans in Brittany, as the tanks raced for Brest, Nantes and toward Le Mans.

Before the fall of Avranches the bulk of German strength opposed the British and Canadians near Caen. After Yank fighters took Avranches, the Nazis swung divisions toward that front.

But allied planes paralyzed Nazi communications and transport, and made the German troops movement (Continued on Page Two)

Speculation On Conference By Allies In Rome

By THURSTON McCULLY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill, Marshal Tito and Dr. Ivan Subasitch, premier of the Yugoslav government-in-exile, were reported today to have conferred in Rome with other high Allied leaders amid signs of a crisis within the Italian government headed by Premier Ivanhoe Bonomi.

The conferences were said to have been attended by U. S. Assistant Secretary of War Robert Patterson and Lieut. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, chief of the U. S. Army Service Forces.

It was not known in London whether there was any connection between the conferences and the reported crisis in the Bonomi cabinet, but there was a belief in well-informed circles that major developments of some nature are imminent in Italy.

Armed Might On Japan
When Germany Quits

CINCINNATI, Aug. 14.—(INS)—Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear, chief of Army ground forces, predicted today that after the anticipated Allied victory in Europe thousands of U. S. troops will be shifted to the Pacific area and remain mobilized until Japan is defeated.

"Much of the Army now in Europe may return home via the Suez Canal and Tokyo after years of absence," Lear declared in an address to the 46th encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans.

"A great many men will be needed for the decisive operations in the Pacific to carry through final assaults against the Japs on the new fighting lines."

Lear asked for universal military training after the war as a means of making the United States strong enough to avoid future wars, and appealed to his audience for all-out support to the military in the decisions that face the nation at the end of the war.

Canadians Open Full-Scale Attack South Of Caen

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Troops of the Canadian First Army launched a full-scale attack south of Caen at noon today and penetrated the German defenses to a depth of two miles to reach points only four miles from Falaise, an Exchange Telegraph company dispatch said.

The ground attack was supported by more than 1,000 heavy Allied bombers in addition to medium bombers, a front line dispatch reported.

Exchange said also that the Germans had withdrawn almost all of the Vire-Mortain salient and that the Americans pounding back the enemy had reached Tichebray and La Bouillaye.

The heavy eight air attack came in the afternoon immediately after medium bombers and fighter-bombers had blasted the German lines in the Falaise sector.

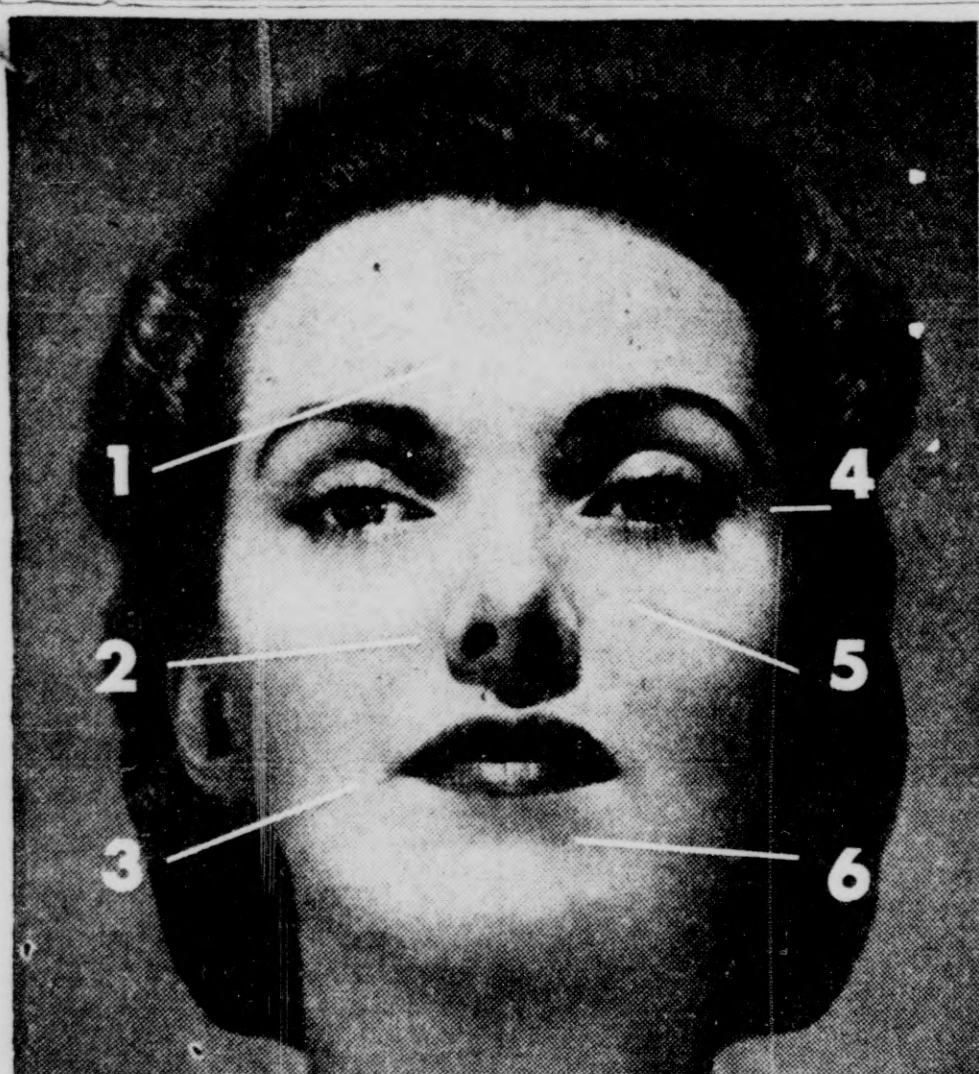

The German agency DNB admitted that near St. Evreux, east of the Caen-Falaise road Allied forces had penetrated the Nazi lines. DNB asserted counter-attacks and bitter fighting now is in progress.

"West of the river Orne" DNB continued, "British troops have launched an attack with strong air support. Local breaches in our lines forced our troops to take back their lines."

So the last day or two you get restless to get back to the old daily chore, and it's just as much to get back as to go, the weather is down, eighty-four.

UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER.

Certain members of the British House of Commons rose to protest.

...the terms of "unconditional surrender" proclaimed at the Casablanca conference would needlessly prolong the war against Germany and suggested that announcement of modification of this decree would encourage the German people to continue the fight.

That this cry was bound to be heard sooner or later was to be expected. It is perhaps an unconscious echo from Goebbels' complaint that the "impossible" conditions imposed on the

ment represented our dictatorship. We should have done that. We should have moved on to another step, to making the natives to pick up their own lives. We should have been a bossy people. No doubt I heard several UNRRA disclaimers, off the record, that the natives were not

NEED FOR MORE PULPWOOD GREAT

Newspapers Can Win War Bonds By Suggesting Methods For Boosting Production

HARRISBURG, Aug. 14.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association announced a contest today with war bonds as prizes in an attempt to uncover suggestions for boosting the war time production of pulpwood.

William N. Hardy, PNPA manager, said $175 in war bond prizes would be awarded each month for at least five months to newspapers suggesting the best ideas. The PNPA will present a $100 bond to the winning publisher, a $50 to the editor and a $25 to the general manager or other officials.

"The need for more pulpwood is very great," Hardy stated. "Overseas requirements of the Army for paper, cardboard and other wood-pulp products are enormous and substantially in excess of anything that has been anticipated."

"Vast quantities of mimeograph, manifold, bond, duplicator and index papers must be procured for the Army," he added. "This is not to mention the huge amount of cardboard needed for packaging medical supplies and all sorts of ammunition and equipment for both the Army and Navy."

He pointed out that the lack of pulpwood had forced several mills to suspend operations.

Place New Workers In War Industries

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 14.—(INS)—Factories engaged in the most vital work for the army and navy today were receiving at least 50 per cent of available new workers, War Manpower officials announced.

"B" industries, or factories engaged in less important work, as compared with the "A" category also are short of men, caused by the increase of war contracts.

brought even to mention the name of his opponent—Wendell Willkie. His intimates were immensely gleeful over the way in which, after personally manipulating his third-term "draft" at Chicago, he got by with this non-political pretense in the campaign. It was slick, all right, but it does not argue strongly for the discernment of the American voter.

ACTUALLY, this is the third time this game has been worked. Whether it will be as successful again as it has been before remains to be seen. The fact that we are actually at war now is, of course, a big help to Mr. Roosevelt. But, it is easily possible that a sufficient number of voters have become disillusioned about him, and aware of the way in which the Commander-in-Chief business is being used to promote his candidacy, to produce a very different result. One thing certain about Mr. Roosevelt, which hardly his friends will deny—however much he may be Commander in Chief he never for a minute forgets he is running for reelection.

Detroit Strikers Go Back To Jobs

DETROIT, Aug. 14.—(INS)—Approximately 10,300 Detroit workers returned to work in key industrial plants today.

Wheels began to turn again in the five strike-bound plants of the Chevrolet Gear and Axel company as 7,000 employees returned to work following a decision to submit their grievances for arbitration.

The final assembly line at the Chrysler tank arsenal renewed its output of General Sherman tanks after a brief closing Saturday.

Production was also resumed in the Briggs outer drive plant after 3,000 striking workers Saturday voted to return to work.

MIXED BAG OF NAZI PRISONERS BEING TAKEN

By RICHARD TREGASKIS U. S. Staff Correspondent

TERS, France, Aug. 14.—American forces which retook Mortain and are forging ahead on a fine road network were taking a mixed bag of prisoners today.

Traffic of all types, from tanks to supply services and women, often in horse-drawn carts, fill the roads. From the air the German exodus has a strangely assorted look.

One of the prisoners taken by the Americans, as he tried to flee to Paris, was a colonel of the German provost marshal's department. He was accompanied by his beautiful wife.

Another prisoner was one of the many Gestapo agents for the Germans had two million unconvicted servants in France—who was trying to get away.

An American staff officer commenting on this prisoner said:

"He was a yellow rat, just what you'd expect. He sang like a hummingbird."

The tank advance which has scooped in prisoners also took a fine assortment of German supply dumps. The biggest taken so far was an ammunition dump in the forest of St. Sauveur.

Priority Committee To Meet Next Week

To pass on new applications and to consider appeals for reclassification, the Priority Referral committee will meet at noon on Monday, August 21, in the office of the United States Employment Service, George R. Gettings, manager of the office, announced today.

On the committee are representatives of the War Manpower committee, the army service forces, the navy district civilian personnel office, the aircraft resources control office, the War Production Board and the Office of Defense Transportation.

Applications are still coming in from employees who haven't as yet filed for their priority rating, Mr. Gettings said. Under the new WMC regulations, no employer can hire unless workers are referred to him by the employment office on the basis of his rating under the priority referral system.

Chinese Soldiers Approach Hengyang

CHUNGKING, Aug. 14.—(INS)—Chinese forces counter-attacking near Hengyang were within sight of that city against today after losing it to a two-month Jap assault last Tuesday.

A communique from the Chinese high command revealed that Chinese troops striking again at Jap positions had driven to within three miles of Hengyang to the north-west of the city.

Another column striking to retake the Hunan province city punched ahead to positions eight miles from Hengyang.

Urges Substitute For Postwar Plan For World Fund

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—(INS)—Rep. Dewey (R) Ill., today urged Congress to approve a broad postwar program of export-import bank credits for war-ravaged nations as a substitute for U. S. participation in the proposed eight billion, 800 million dollar postwar international stabilization fund.

Dewey, in a speech prepared for House delivery, urged rejection of the huge international monetary fund which was tentatively approved by representatives of 44 nations, including the United States, at Bretton Woods, N. H., last month.

Asserting that terms of the world monetary fund required the U. S. to contribute two and three-quarter billion dollars of the 8.8 billion total, Dewey said this nation would be outvoted 28 per cent to 72 per cent in the allocation of postwar credits.

State Unemployment Insurance Systems Must Be Expanded

Action Foreseen As Congress Prepares For Revision Of Senate Demobilization Measure

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Expansion of the state unemployment insurance systems was foreseen today as house committee prepared to begin work on revision of the senate demobilization bill.

The chief proposal to be considered by the house ways and means committee is extension of coverage to employees in establishments employing one or more workers. The present law affects those of eight or more.

The proposal, which would be accomplished by extending the federal three per cent unemployment payroll tax, is strongly supported by War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes.

Sponsors of the Murray-Kilgore program of unemployment compensation providing for payments as high as $35 a week by use of federal as well as state funds planned to renew their fight in the house. Defeat was forecast, however, since the house has shown an even stronger tendency to protect rights of states than has the senate.

Warning Is Given
Meantime, congress had a warning from Sen. Walter F. George (D) Ga., chairman of the senate finance committee, that it cannot reduce taxes in the postwar era if it votes "runaway expenditures."

"The joint congressional tax committee and the treasury are making a study of reduction of taxes in the postwar period, but it is doubtful if little more can be done than to settle on a policy before Germany is defeated," said George.

"Reduction of taxation depends on the size of the budget. There is strong likelihood of a postwar budget of $18,500,000,000 to $20 billions, and unforeseen expenditures might raise it to $22 billions."

"The size of the army and navy, cost of UNRRA and other agencies will have much to do with determining the size of the budget."

"It is undoubtedly true that congress will strive to reduce taxes, especially those which act as a brake on production or business."

These are taxes particularly like the 95 per cent excess profits tax." Congress also planned to speed action on surplus property disposal legislation. The house is scheduled to consider a bill tomorrow, while the senate military affairs committee will seek to whip a measure into shape during the week.

Democratic leaders were expected to seek quick action on emergency postwar legislation, and then postpone other major action until after the election.

Fourteen Pennsylvanians Are In Oldest Flying Fortress Wing Operating In Mediterranean

15TH AAF IN ITALY—Four officers and thirteen enlisted men from Pennsylvania are members of the Headquarters of the oldest Flying Fortress Wing operating in the Mediterranean theatre.

This particular wing was activated in July of 1942, arrived in Africa soon after the invasion, and flew the first mission against Sfax and Sousse docks and shipping on January 14, 1943. Fortresses of the wing were the first to bomb Europe from England, the first to land in Africa, led the first bombing mission on Rome, were the first to bomb the Cassino monastery, and from Mediterranean bases were the first to bomb Pantelleria, Sicily, Greece, Sardinia, the Balkans, and Southern France. These were the same Fortresses which made the first shuttle mission from Italy to Russia.

Technical Sergeant Carl L. Cummins, 633 South Ray street, is in Ordinance, while others from Pennsylvania are the flight surgeon, an administrative officer, and a special services officer.

Fire Disaster At Coney Island

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Thousands of men, women and children were routed from crowded Luna Park Saturday when a five-alarm fire of undetermined origin struck Coney Island's famous amusement park, causing damage estimated tentatively at more than $250,000.

Despite the milling throngs of amusement-bound visitors—predominantly women and children—inside and outside the park, there were no reports of any serious casualties. The flames were brought under control by some 20 pieces of fire-fighting equipment.

More than two-square blocks of property were left in ruins by the flames which broke out at 3:25 p. m. in the vicinity of the "Sky-Chaser", a roller-coaster ride, not far from the scene of a similar fire at the park last February.

Buy Undersized Crop Of Potatoes

Financial Loss To Farmers With 'Grade B' Potatoes Is Prevented

HARRISBURG, Aug. 14.—Two federal food agencies banded together today to prevent a financial loss to farmers by purchasing undersize grade "B" potatoes at $1.07 a hundredweight for shipment to experimental stations for possible development as dairy, poultry and live stock feed.

The state agricultural adjustment agency announced Chairman Clyde A. Zehner and John F. Conaboy, director of the Pennsylvania food distribution administration, had drafted the program after "a recent survey of potato markets indicated that growers and dealers in the early potato producing counties were unable to move size "B" potatoes at support prices." Approximately 40 carloads were estimated to be available.

Zehner said the undersized crop was the result of dry weather. The support price, he added, will prevail for potatoes bagged, graded and loaded.

School Enrollment Five Per Cent Less

HARRISBURG, Aug. 14.—(INS)—Approximately 1,550,000 students will return to public schools in Pennsylvania when the autumn term begins, five per cent less than last year, the Department of Public Instruction estimated today.

Jonas E. Wagner, child accounting and research statistician, said the greatest decline would be noted in high schools due to the number of students over 16, who have gone to work, and inductions of draft-age youths into the armed services.

He added that new entrants had been steadily decreasing along with the state's declining birth rate and predicted less than 140,000 first graders would be enrolled.

SUPER-GASOLINE

IN THE AIR "TODAY"

ON THE ROAD "TOMORROW"

THIS Mustang and all the rest of America's combat planes have an edge in the air that comes from the powerful fuel in their tanks. Fighting fuel is made by blending 100-octane gasoline with CUMENE, the T.N.T. of fuel concentrates. The Atlantic Refining Company found the way to make CUMENE in vast quantities—and Atlantic is the largest producer in the world. Every drop of this super-gasoline goes to the Air Forces now. Your present car isn't built to use it, anyway. But your post-war car will be engineered to use gasoline provided by Atlantic research with far more power and economy than you have ever known.

Larger Robot Bombs Feared

British Ambassador Says People Confronted With Probably Greater Robots

By LEON PEARSON
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—British Ambassador Earl Halifax, just back from two months in England, said the British public today are confronted by the prospect of "a much larger and more deadly bomb in the form of a robot"—a prospect which prevents anyone in England from being over-optimistic about the war.

The tall, slender envoy made the disclosure at a press conference at the British embassy during which he related some unadorned truths about the flying bomb attacks on London.

After the conference, an embassy official said:

"I think we have made a mistake in playing down what the robot bombs actually have meant to us."

Halifax described his own experience of being aroused from bed in London by a flying bomb attack. He saw two or three bombs caught in the searchlight "with something like a great firefly in their tail."

He spoke of the impersonal and human quality of the missile.

Londoners who get the brunt of it, said the ambassador, "have had five years of bombing and blitzes and blackouts, and they have had the right to think they might be spared at last. But here they come, the flying bombs, by day or by night."

Yet they have not had the slightest effect on the resolution of the British people.

In fact, the ambassador said, the British are preparing to make their full impact on Japan as soon as the European war is over. He revealed that some English factories are already switching over to produce materials for the Pacific war, such as sun helmets and tropical clothing.

But the British public is not eager to make further sacrifices in the interest of Washington's policy against Argentina. The ambassador made this clear in response to a question on the desirability of cutting off purchases of Argentine meat, as a form of sanction against "Fascist" country. He said:

"If you think the British people, who have been limited in their rations, would wish to be further limited—I think you are correctly informed!"

Fourteen Student Nurses Are Capped

Impressive Ceremony Conducted In New Castle Hospital Nursing School On Sunday

Fourteen students of the pre-clinic class of the New Castle Hospital School of Nursing received their caps and capes at an impressive ceremony held in the nurses home, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Following the procession, Rev. Fr. Vincent O'Donnell, chaplain of the New Castle Hospital gave the invocation.

John Maher, president of the New Castle Hospital School of Nursing council was the master of ceremonies, and after a few welcoming remarks, introduced, Dr. Paul H. Wilson, who extended congratulations from the hospital staff. Dr. Wilson spoke of the high prestige exemplified by the nursing profession, and only through the hard and sacrifices of the new nursing students could nursing high standards be maintained.

Miss Rose Sacco and Virginia Greer sang, "The Rosary," and following a brief talk was heard from Sister Mary Dolores, director of nurses. Sister Dolores welcomed the new class of 1947 into the school and extended credit for successfully completing six months of probation study and work.

The students were capped by Sister Mary Dolores, and received their capes from Sister Mary Hyacinth. The student nurses recited the Florence Nightingale pledge and the cadet nurses pledge while they formed a cross, and later while forming V for Victory, they sang, "God Bless America." Dorothy Ballint represented Florence Nightingale, and Rose Mary Place and Cecelia Rucinski represented the cadet nurses corps. Mrs. Olive Key, president of the New Castle Hospital Alumnae, lit the candles carried by the new candles, which signified lighting their way and to carrying on their high ideals.

Rev. Fr. Francis C. Streiff, pastor of St. Joseph's church, gave an excellent talk of the beginning of the nursing profession as far back as in the days of the Pharaohs and the Egyptians. Father Streiff emphasized Christian charity as the keynote of success in the profession. Father Streiff concluded with a fervent hope and prayer that God would give them the light of love and charity to guide them in their life's work.

Miss Greer sang, "Four Leaf Clover," and benediction followed by Father O'Donnell. "Holy God We Praise Thy Name," and the recessional brought the ceremonies to a close.

Mrs. Frances Colao was the pianist throughout the entire program.

Afterwards an informal reception for the parents and friends of the students was held in the parlor of the nurses home. Pouring at the beautifully arranged table were: Gertrude Crabbe, Josephine Perrotti, Mary Martha Acker, and Mrs. Ann Weaver. Louise Capparelli was in charge of the reception.

Students who received their caps were: Lillian Ambrozewicz, 622 Reynolds street; Josephine Bartoli Donora, Pa.; Dorothy Beatrice Wampum; Betty Booser, Millvale; Elizabeth Burgess, 1303 1/2 Croton avenue; Margaret Cugini, 710 Mabel street; Mary Jane Esposito, Clearfield, Pa.; Eleanor Jordan, 20 East Winter avenue; Norma Marie Lombardi, 124 Blanchard street; Betty Mae Miller, 1239 Randolph street; Anna Marie Lombardo, 769 Harrison street; Josephine Petrilli, 610 Pearson street; Elizabeth Skiba Moon Run, Pa. and Jennie Zarembo, Aliquippa.

Women Urged To Do More Canning

OPA Chief Urges Women Take Advantage Of Bumper Fruit Crops

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—(INS)—America's estimated 24 million home canners were advised today by OPA Chief Chester Bowles to take full advantage of this year's bumper fruit crop and lay away a good supply for the "lean" winter months.

In the wake of a poor fruit crop last year, the department of agriculture predicts an overall boost of 15 per cent in 1944-45 with the popular types of "canning" fruit available in "bonanza" quantities.

Underlining the importance of canning, the OPA announced today that availability of fresh vegetables will be the test in granting supplemental ration points for canned vegetables to individual consumers. Small boarding houses and industrial in-plant feeding operations in areas where fresh vegetables are insufficient to meet minimum nutritional needs.

Near Recovery Of Bodies Of Trapped Powhattan Miners

Rescuers Within 26 Feet Of Main Tunnel In Ill-Fated Mine; 66 Trapped

BELLAIRE, O., Aug. 14.—(INS)—Recovery of the bodies of 66 men trapped in the Powhattan mine since July 5 was believed near today.

A special slope cut into the mine was lowered yesterday to a point 1426 feet below the surface of the earth and test holes indicated that only 26 feet remained to be cut through before the mine's main tunnels would be reached.

State mine chief Marcus Kerr said the entry probably would be completed by mid-morning, but pointed out that recovery of the bodies probably would not be completed for several days. He said the miners were working in five different sections of the mine when fire broke out July 5 blocking the only escape route.

Work on the big entry began July 16 after two borings into the mine failed to reveal existing life. The operations have not ceased with mine rescue crews on the job seven days a week, 24 hours a day.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Aug. 14.—(INS)—Northumberland county authorities opened an investigation today into the death of Frank Schickley, 57, coal run, who was instantly killed last night on the Mt. Carmel-Shamokin highway by a car driven by Sgt. Lewis Apichell Jr., Kulpmont, attached to Pennsylvania selective service headquarters.

Apichell was on week-end leave when the accident occurred. The Round Tower of Windsor castle, home of the British sovereigns, was built by Edward III (1312-1377) to receive the round table of the knights of the newly founded Order of the Garter. It was used as a prison until 1660.

Four Philadelphia Workers Discharged As Result Of Strike

Four Refuse To Return To Work
At Government Order, Are Promptly Fired

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14.—(INS)—
Four Philadelphia transportation company employees, who failed to obey the army's order to return to work last Monday at the end of the six-day transit strike, were discharged today.

Maj. Gen. Philip Hayes, war department representative in charge of operating the system, said the quarrel faces draft reclassification and possible induction into the armed forces.

The discharge of the four brought to eight the number fired by the company because of the disastrous work stoppage. Four alleged strike leaders, who reported for work, had previously been dismissed "for cause."

Meanwhile, Gen. Hayes announced that soldiers no longer will be posted on any vehicles. Patrols presumably outside PTC installations, will be maintained, however
he said.

The latest to be discharged were
Thomas A. Quigley, Charles Kluge,
Louis Conway and Pat Inverso.
Gen. Hayes said that the four-day hearings for 191 employees who failed to obey the back-to-work ultimatum showed that the majority had acceptable excuses.

Men Of Old Guard Unit Hit Nazis

Local Boys With 'Long Toms' Have Been Giving Germans Plenty Of Headaches

In a letter to his father, Dan Pagley, better known to local folks
under his ring name of Tommy Lynch, Pvt. Harry Pagley tells his father that the boys of the old National Guard unit here, Company F, have been giving the Nazis plenty of headaches since the invasion opened.

The local boys were on the scene
soon after D-Day with their 155-MM howitzers, better known as the 'Long Toms', and they shelled Cherbourg and other important strongholds of the Nazis, soon knocking them out. They have been giving a good account of themselves,
the local boy states.

He tells about laying offshore and watching the big guns from the battle ship Texas knock out German shore installations on invasion day.
Included in his letter were two invasion bank notes, a five-franc and ten-franc note. The ten-franc piece is worth about 20 cents, he states.
In the last war one franc was equal to 18 cents, showing how currency has depreciated in France.

Torrid Kiss In Chicago Brings Fire Department

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—(INS)—A kiss so torrid that it brought out
the fire department challenged all existing osculatory records today.

Police, after they had arrested
Margaret Mayhood, 41, accused her with disorderly conduct, said
that this was what happened:

As Margaret and a man she named as Herbert Clark were sitting in a tavern, Herbert planted such a sizzling kiss on Margaret's lips that she straightway ran across the street to a fire alarm box and pulled the lever.

Herbert got away from there in a hurry, but Margaret was waiting in the middle of the street when 15
pieces of fire-fighting equipment
screeched to the scene.

"I know I was wrong," Margaret explained, "but I got so excited!"
Now they're looking for Herbert.

Pupils Have Cavities But Teeth Are Clean

School Dentist Finds 1,756 Children
With Cavities, But Only 14
With Dirty Teeth

Toothache may well be a common complaint among New Castle school children, according to school dentist W. R. Jones, who reports that out of 1,986 pupils examined
during the 1943-44 school term, 1,756
had tooth cavities.

Few of them were limited to one cavity apiece, either. The dentist's report continues, for the total number of cavities was 13,815, of which 3,436 were in permanent teeth.

When it came to cleanliness, the children rated much better, for 992 were clean, and 966 were fair. Only 14 definitely dirty ones hadn't been true to their toothbrushes lately.

Fifty-two children were reported as having diseased gums.
One hundred and three treatments were given, but 179 couldn't be settled so easily; they had to be pulled. As for fillings, 1,419 were put in, many of them of amalgam,
but some of cement, red copper,
gutta percha, and porcelain.

Forty-three of the teeth extracted were six-year molars, while 138 molars were missing, apparently coming out of their own accord. The number of molars which should be extracted still stands at 88, however, the report stated. Altogether, 121 of these cases were completed,
and the number of these children whose teeth are now one hundred per cent perfect comes to 260.

Three Injured In Gasoline Blast At Marcus Hook, Pa.

New 13 Million Dollar High Octane
Gasoline Plant Damaged
By Explosion

MARCUS HOOK, Pa., Aug. 14.— (INS)—Three men were under treatment today for serious injuries
following a blast at the Sun Oil company's new 13 million dollar high octane gasoline refineries at Marcus Hook.

The explosion rocked the plant
as liquid butane was being drawn into the compressing system from a container. Employees had closed
the valves of other connected tanks forcing the butane into the sewerage system, and fumes given off by the liquid escaped through the sewer vents. A passing automobile backfire set one pocket of the gas ablaze, igniting the gases in the underground piping system.

Police rerouted all traffic in the vicinity as flashes of fire burst from sewer vents.

Injured when flames from vents
enveloped their truck were Jerome Hines and John B. Street of Chester and J. Harvey Sykes of Wood-lynne.

The plant's compressing equipment was wrecked, officials said.
The plant normally can produce weekly enough gasoline to power
two thousand bombers from London to Berlin and back.

Boche Fleeing In Ger Region

By RICHARD TREGASKIS
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH AN AMERICAN ARMORED COLUMN IN GER. FRANCE, Aug. 14—This is the kind of war Americans like to fight—with our side dishing it out and the other side, ev-what there is left of the other side, taking it.

It seems that the Boche in this sector at least is "scraping." He's gone, except for a skeleton rear-guard which is fleeing and a few corpses and wrecked vehicles lying along the roadways.

This little town of Ger is the focal point of five good roads, hence is an important point in the "pocket" area in which the Germans are being battered. It has been given up without a fight.

Our advance elements reached here this morning and are out ahead looking for the Boche. They have not been able to find him yet.

Our armored column, clattering through Ger, is only one of several spikes thrusting into the area once reeling with Germans. But according to army corps headquarters it is typical—it is striking into a rear vacuum. This in no way minimizes the confusion and losses of the enemy when he fell all over himself setting out of the pocket.

Telephone Tip To City Police Locates Jewels

Telephones may be used for business, social conversations and according to police authorities, also to furnish police with information and the latter method resulted Saturday night in Police Chief Robert D. Hanna finding jewels, reportedly stolen from Mrs. Thomas Dickey East Lincoln avenue, hidden in a garage, rear of the residence in which she has an apartment.

The chief was at his home when a voice which he believes was that of a young boy informed him that if he was interested in finding the stolen gems he could find them in the garage.

Chief Hanna went to the garage and the gems, worth considerable money, were located pursuant to the telephone tip.

And thus ended another case which came to the police for solving.

British Arrive At Frontier Of Burma

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(INS)—
The London radio reported today
a British patrol had reached the Burma frontier in the 14th Army's drive south from Manipur on the road to Tiddim, now roughly 40 miles away.

The patrol reached the border
London said, by a successful attack on an enemy camp, beyond which the road was found blocked by felled trees and antitank ditches.

In the Kabaw valley sector to the east, according to the broadcast,
rivers have slowed the British ad-

GEN. EISENHOWER SAYS TIME NEARS FOR MAJOR VICTORY

sued at an advanced command post
of supreme headquarters of the Allied Expeditionary Forces in Normandy, came shortly after the regular Allied communique disclosed that Allied forces seeking to trap
an estimated 100,000 enemy troops had made further progress west of the Orne river and southeast of Vire.

Escape Corridor Narrowed

Front dispatches indicated that the Nazis' escape corridor from the Vire-Mortain-Falaise sector had shriveled to less than 17 miles.

Gen. Eisenhower congratulated
all of his forces in his order of the day—Americans, British and Canadians alike—thanking them for creating what he termed "a definite opportunity for a major Allied victory, one whose realization will mean notable progress toward the final downfall of the enemy."

The supreme Allied commander appealed to every airman to "blast
the enemy unceasingly day and night" and to every sailor to insure that "no part of the hostile forces
escape or are reinforced by the sea."

Every Allied soldier, Eisenhower said, should "go forward...with the determination that the enemy can survive only through surrendering and let not a foot of ground gained be relinquished nor a single German escape."

Momentous Week

He declared that they could make this week "a momentous one in the history of the war, a brilliant and fruitful one for us and a fateful one for ambitious tyrants."

A spokesman at Allied headquarters said that although the German army in the Vire-Mortain area had been forced into a general withdrawal, there was no sign of a collapse. The enemy retreat was being covered by strong rearguards in the Mortain area and every inch of ground is being fiercely contested,
he said.

The enemy is still heavily protecting the Vire-Falaise area. The spokesman declared, but more small advances have been made between the Orne and the Laise against stiff opposition.

Admitting that there is a "heavy movement eastward throughout the battle area," the spokesman added that the next few days will show
"whether the retreat can be turned into a rout with the help of the air forces."

Reach Argentin Area

Latest reports reaching headquarters were that the Nazis' escape gap was between 18.6 and 25 miles wide.

"Substantial American troops movements" north of Le Mans through Alencon, the spokesman declared, had reached the "area of Argentin," while other Yank forces are pushing north of Argentin against increasing enemy resistance.

Only slight progress has been made in the Mortain area, but gains of more than three miles have been hammered out in the Vire area.

The Varenne river has been crossed between Mayenne and Domfront
and a bridgehead established close to Domfront.

The Germans still hold Thury-Harcourt, although the British and Canadians are reported attacking strongly southeast of that town.

5300 Air Sorties

At least 3,500 sorties were flown
by allied warplanes Sunday and excellent weather prevailing today indicated that the Germans are getting another terrific aerial pounding.

American troops driving northward from Alencon toward a junction with British and Canadian forces, advancing on Falaise were reported only 12 miles from that important communications center.

Allied troops entered the towns of Clair, Tizon and Donnay east of the Orne river.

South of St. Pierre La Vieille, the advance continued along the high ground on each side of the road to Conde-Sur-Orne, while southeast of Vire Mor ground was gained in heavy fighting.

St. Pierre La Vieille is about four miles southeast of Mont Pincon and five miles north of Conde-Sur-Noireaux.

Farther to the south, in the Mortain sector, American doughboys closely pursued the retreating Nazis
despite mines and long-range artillery fire.

Remnants of the German garrison
are still holding out in the citadel of St. Malo on the Brest peninsula as the allies press their attack on Dinard against strong enemy resistance.

No Change At Lorient

There has been no change in the situation at the Nazi-held submarine base of Lorient on the Bay of Biscay, according to communique
No. 128 from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's supreme headquarters.

Meanwhile, allied heavy and medium bombers attacked highways and road junctions on both sides of the Seine river from Paris to the sea and westward toward the battered communications center of Lisieux and Ruge.

Medium bombers also hit rail
bridges at Peronne, Beautor, Dou-lens and Cherisy, rail facilities at Corbeil and enemy gun positions in the Falaise area.

Among the targets blasted by the heavy bombers were a rail bridge over the Seine at Le Manoir, U-boat shelters at Brest, an oil storage depot for U-boats at Bordeaux and gun positions at St. Malo and the Ile De Cezembre.

Fourteen heavy bombers and two medium bombers failed to return from these operations.

Fighter planes, fighter-bombers and rocket-firing fighters continued to provide cover for the advancing ground forces by bombing and strafing Nazi tanks, motor transport, strongpoints and troop concentrations in the battle area.

Light bombers last night continued their attack on transport tracks behind the enemy lines.

(A British radio broadcast heard by NBC monitors in New York asserted that United Kingdom troops are only six miles from Falaise. The London Daily Express said that American forces driving north of Argentin had made a lightning advance to within 12 miles south of Falaise, indicating that the escape corridor for the Germans may have narrowed to 17 miles or less.)

More than 1,200 heavy allied bombers plastered choke points of the German withdrawal on Sunday
but the enemy retreat, despite its speed, was described as orderly "so far."

Allied headquarters refused to confirm or deny reports that the Americans had entered Argentin.

Throughout the Sabbath, allied planes rained over Nazi escape routes east of the front, aided by virtually perfect flying conditions.
Pilots reported a general German movement toward the Seine river
and communications centers east and southeast of the area in which the Nazis are menaced by encirclement.

American armored forces striking swiftly in a new offensive thrust from the Vire-Mortain sectors, were in hot pursuit of fleeing Nazi columns. Hundreds of enemy tanks and motor vehicles were knocked out and the toll was mounting steadily.

Devastating Attack On German Positions

LONDON, Aug. 14.—(INS)—
Heavyweight Allied bombers today launched a devastating attack on German positions around Falaise,
a dispatch from Tactical Air Force
headquarters said.

The "heavyweight" bombardment followed up an attack by both medium bombers and fighter-bombers at noon.

The air ministry said meanwhile that Lancasters usually employed for night bombing, had blasted enemy shipping at Brest during the morning in clear weather.

SEA ENGAGEMENT

LONDON, Aug. 14.—(INS)—The DNE agency said today that a group of German minesweepers, aided by coastal batteries, early today engaged a formation of 10 Allied destroyers and motor torpedo boats south of the channel island of Guernsey.

The minesweepers were said to have suffered minor damage, with some casualties among their crews.

DNE claimed that one Allied destroyer was damaged in the engagement.

the Lublin "extermination camp" in Poland has been captured, the Lon-information from Moscow.

British newspapers are printing

tims in the foreground," the BBC said.

An eye-witness account of the viet war correspondent, was quoted in the broadcast.

"I can see barracks extending over many square kilometers, in the middle of which stands a huge stone building, the world's largest crea-matorium," the correspondent declared. "Groups of victims, 100 at a time, were brought to this building from the Lublin concentration camp."

The doomed persons, including Russians, Poles, Ukrainians and Jews, were killed in gas chambers.
Then their bones were pulverized and placed in cans for shipment to Germany for use as fertilizers."

CBS heard the broadcast.

TUBA PLAYER

Gay Harold "Cooky" Brown works like a smithy's bellows behind a big bass horn in the Coast Guard band coming to New Castle on August 17 to play the "SPARLIGHT" Musical Cruise at the Cathedral Theatre.

In "jam sessions" and in the dance band section Brown's beaming face tries to conceal itself behind the neck of a bass fiddle. The sandy-haired Coast Guardsman needs no repertoire of gags to provoke laughs. His antics keep band members in stitches and audiences hilarious.

More Than SIX MILLION Firestone synthetic rubber Tires Now in Service !

Today's Firestone DeLuxe Champion Tires are Setting New Records for Mileage and Safety

ON THE fighting fronts and on the home front, more than six million Firestone Tires, made with synthetic rubber, are helping to transport vitally important manpower and materials. In every respect, these tires are upholding the Firestone tradition of "Best in Rubber—Synthetic or Natural."

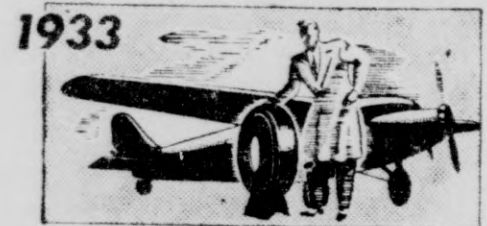

Today's Firestone Tires are setting new records in mileage and safety because for more than 20 years Firestone has been a pioneer and pacemaker in synthetic rubber. This position of leadership has enabled Firestone to develop special compounds, new constructions and improved manufacturing methods for synthetic rubber tires.

As a result, Firestone DeLuxe Champion Tires now provide many new and revolutionary features in addition to such patented and exclusive advantages as Saffi-Lock Gum-Dipped Cords for greater body strength and extra blowout protection — Vitamic Rubber for longer life — Gear Grip Tread for utmost protection against skidding and for added mileage — and that priceless ingredient which we Americans call "know-how" backed by 44 years of experience in building many millions of quality tires.

So when you get permission from your ration board to buy new tires, buy time-tested, extra-value Firestone DeLuxe Champions — the tires that stay safer longer.

Listen to the Voice of Firestone with Richard Crooks and the Firestone Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Howard Barlow, Monday evenings, over N.B.C.

Seek To Forestall Postwar Increase In Crime In State

'Orderly Demobilization' Is Chief
Need, Declares State Welfare Secretary

By JAMES H. SMITH
HARRISBURG, Aug. 14.—(INS)—Welfare secretary S. M. R. O'Hara declared today that "orderly demobilization" of the armed services would be necessary to forestall a postwar crime boom and pointed out that the population in the eight state-supervised prisons dropped only 649 during the past four years.

She indicated that industry must be ready to absorb service men and women as they are relieved of military duties in order to provide an outlet for energy that might fall into improper channels.

"We can avoid an increase in crime in the future," Miss O'Hara said, "only to the extent to which we can anticipate and develop orderly processes for demobilization and the development of industry to provide jobs."

7159 In State Prisons
Latest figures compiled by the department revealed there were 7159 men and women in state prisons and correctional institutions. The total excluded an estimated 3,000 others imprisoned in county and city jails throughout Pennsylvania.

Miss O'Hara admitted that juvenile delinquency had increased since the war began but asserted the rate was not alarming.

She pointed out that youths between 16 and 25 years of age were responsible for most of the misdemeanors and major crimes.

"With the entry into the armed forces of youths 18 years of age and over this group is diverted into military service where the action and discipline provided by the armed forces is the best thing for potential offenders," she said.

569 In Morgantown
She said the latest reports showed there were 569 youths in the Morgantown Training school, 339 women at the State Industrial Home at Muncy, 943 in the White Hill Industrial school for boys and 891 at Huntingdon.

The population of the state's four penitentiaries, Miss O'Hara said, were: Eastern, 1017; Graterford, 1600; Western, 1039 and Rockview, 758.

Meanwhile, Gov. Edward Martin was pushing plans for modernizing the prison system prior to recommending to the legislature in 1945 that the Eastern State penitentiary at Philadelphia and the Western state penitentiary at Pittsburgh be moved from their sites "because they are poorly located and outmoded."

The governor was expected to base his program on the report of a special five-member committee which surveyed the prison system and urged the establishment of a "reception center" where criminals en route to penitentiaries or correctional institutions could be classified.

The committee also urged Governor Martin to propose construction of a maximum security prison for hardened criminals.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 14.—(INS)—A quarterly report of the department of public assistance revealed today that more than 600 elderly Pennsylvanians had become self-dependent during the past three months.

Approximately 84,900 persons over 65 currently received old-age assistance in contrast to the 89,800 listed last year, the report stated.

Penn State Has Housing Problem

Only One Out Of Three Women
Applying For Admission Can Be Admitted

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Aug. 14.—The Pennsylvania State college has been able to accept only one out of every three women applying for admission for the fall term. President Ralph D. Hetzel revealed today, because of limited housing facilities for co-eds. As a result, the quota of freshmen women was filled three months before the semester's opening, in late October.

"This situation is particularly distressing," Dr. Hetzel said, "because practically all of these girls rank in the upper two-fifths of their high school classes and have been excellently prepared for college. More than 150 were in the upper one-fifth and many were valedictorians."

With a freshman quota of 300 women the college will be providing accommodations for a total of 164 more women than ever before, he said.

To make room for the 2,000 women who will attend in the fall, the college has already taken over the men's dorms and more than 20 houses which will be supervised as "dormitory dorms," and no additional rooming and dining facilities are in sight, Dr. Hetzel said.

The percentage of women who apply who can be accommodated at Penn State is decreasing, he added, in spite of the added physical plant facilities provided during the past few years.

The administration is deeply concerned, too, with the problems which will arise with the return of men from the services," Dr. Hetzel said. "Even before the war we were unable to take care of those who sought admission, and the return of veterans will make the situation acute."

"In no other state in the Union does such a situation exist. Most of the states have made adequate provision in their public colleges and universities for the education of their young people. It is clear that our Commonwealth, as never before, will need technically trained leadership and research and extension services of institutions of higher learning if it is to assume its proper place in the postwar era."

PASIKOWSKI IS TOURNEY WINNER

Pittsburgh Golfer With Hot
Putter One Over Par In Public Links Open
Event

FINE FIELD AT SYLVAN HEIGHTS

John Pasikowski of Pittsburgh, a fine young golfer with a hot putter, put together two rounds of 72 and 73 to take the West Penn-Eastern Ohio public links tournament here Sunday. The blistering heat seemed to affect a number of those who shot fine rounds in the morning, and a number fell by the wayside in the afternoon, shooting themselves out of the money. Mike Granito of Cleveland and Ed Koski of Steubenville were tied for second with scores of 147.

Mike Szewicki of Pittsburgh, brother of the West Penn titleholder, Andy Szewicki, who was competing in the Pittsburgh city championships yesterday and could not enter here, fell by the wayside and finished 25th, but close enough to get in the money. He had two rounds of 77. Last Sunday, while playing here, he broke the course record with a 66, but could not get going yesterday. Andy Santor and Steve Pipoly of Youngstown tied for fourth place with 148.

Another fine golfer from whom much was expected, G. E. Schultz of Cleveland, also fell by the wayside during the afternoon round, coming in ninth with 150. Pete Lakos of Cleveland, who was medalist for the morning round with a 71, could do no better than 78 in the afternoon, and finished but one stroke ahead of his partner from Cleveland, Bob Thompson of Ellwood City, could not get his putter working or he would have won the event easily. He finished with a round of 76 after a fine 73 score for the morning. Another fine young golfer, Fred Broad, finished in the money with 154 for 24th place.

Stan Bukowski, carrying the colors of Sylvan Heights, was the best player for the local boys with two rounds of 75. Frank Lasso of Ellwood City was one over par in the afternoon, matching it with a 77 round in the morning to also score a 150.

Bill Twaddle of Allquippa, 385-pound former local boy, who plays a mean game of golf, was just outside the money with two rounds of 80.

A field of 98 golfers competed, coming from widely scattered points between Cleveland, O., and Pittsburgh and the event was run off in record time. Only three golfers failed to finish, despite the record heat, which was close to the hundred mark in the shade.

The scores of the leaders:

Making a Mark

HITTING of Mark Christman, St. Louis Browns infielder, causes comment as the Browns continue to lead the league. Christman, said by Manager Luke Sewell to be the most improved player in the league, has driven in 44 runs and is batting around .300 now. Christman originally came up to the majors with Detroit, going to the Browns in 1939. (International)

Pro Golfers To Start Tourney

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 14.—(INS)—Professional golfers were poised to start the 26th annual P. G. A. championship tournament on the tricky Manito course today for prize awards totaling $20,000.

After three days of practice, the professionals declared that a score of 150 or less in the qualifying round will be good enough to earn a spot in the match play, but that the 136 stroke record will not be broken.

High wind continued yesterday as most professionals practiced, but Neil Christian, Spokane professional, toured the course in 67 strokes to equal the mark set Saturday by Byron Nelson of Toledo, Ohio. Ted Longworth of Portland, Ore., made a hole in one on the par three number three hole. Other scores included Jimmy Hines of Amsterdam, N. Y., 70; Bud Lewis of Oreland, Pa., 70.

YANKEES SPLIT WITH WHITE SOX

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(INS)—We are convinced more than ever today that the Browns are going to win their first American league pennant this year.

They came east knowing that they had to make the grade against the Yankees and Red Sox. A slump on this road trip, while not necessarily fatal, would have thrown the Browns out of high gear and would have given a flip to the pressing Yankees and Red Sox.

So they enter Yankee stadium, where they have never been too successful, and proceed to trim the Yankees three out of four in the Yanks' own back yard.

Browns-Sox Split
Then yesterday they went to Boston and dropped the first game of a doubleheader, 7-5. That might have discouraged a club that didn't have what it takes. But it failed to dispirit the Brownies and they bounced back to take the nightcap, 3-1, in a game that was called at the end of the fifth by a Sunday law.

The Senators won their second twin bill of the year by trimming the Indians, 2-1 and 4-1, behind Early Wynn and Mickey Haefner. The Yanks unblatantly a new rookie, Mel Queen from Newark, to humble the White Sox, 10-1, but the Chicagoans evened matters by slugging Hank Borowy for an 11-3 verdict in the second game.

After winning nine straight, the Tigers bowed to the Athletics, 6-1, in the first game of two but they took the second, 6 to 0.

Pirates Win Two
The Pirates had little or no trouble taking two from the lowly and defensive Braves, 8-1 and 3-1, with Al Lopez, Frank Colman and Rip Sewell contributing homers to the double victory. It was Frank's fourth round tripper in three games.

The Giants ran their losing streak to six straight by dropping a pair to the Reds, 4-3 and 9-2.

Tom Seaver finally caught up with the Dodgers and the Cards promptly caught up with Tom and our Bums dropped the opener, 4-1. Need we say that our Bums also lost the second game, 7-3.

Rod Northey's homer provided the winning margin in the Phils' 3-2 victory over the Cubs in the first game and they all teamed up to slug out a 7-6 decision in the nightcap.

Tuesday Games In City Baseball Loop

Machinists will oppose West Pittsburgh at the E. & A. Johnson Bronze will play against the Alcoa at Marshall field, Shenango Pottery will travel to Deshon field to play the Universal Pottery and the Moose will take on the P. R. R. at Lee Avenue in Tuesday games in the City Baseball league. The Johnson Bronze and Loyal Moose are first and second place teams, respectively.

The Universal Pottery and the Machinists will play a twilight game at Deshon field today. The West Pittsburgh-Shenango Pottery game at West Pittsburgh was not played because Shenango was short a player.

Last Race Tuesday For Great Alsab

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—(INS)—Chicagoans will see Alsab, the wonder horse that Mr. Al Sabath bought for $700 and that went on to win $349,815 in three years of racing, probably for the last time tomorrow.

Alsab, sporting the familiar pink and blue Sabath colors, will make his last trip from the paddock to the racing strip at Washington park between the fifth and sixth races tomorrow for a farewell gallop. The brilliant son of Good-Winds Chant will be shipped for retirement down to the Sabath farm in the Blue Grass country of Kentucky.

Talbert, Brough Singles Champs

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 14.—(INS)—Bill Talbert of Indianapolis and Louise Brough of Beverly Hills were singles champions today in the Eastern Grass courts meet after swinging to respective victories in straight sets. Talbert upset the favored Pancho Segura, defending champion from Ecuador, 9-7, 6-4, 6-4, while Miss Brough downed national champion Pauline Betz of Los Angeles 6-3, 6-1. Talbert and Segura teamed to cop the doubles laurels and Miss Brough paired with Margaret Osborne of San Francisco to capture the women's doubles.

Softball League Games Tonight

Three games will be played tonight in the Industrial Softball league, with all games starting at six o'clock. The games are as follows: Universal Pottery vs. P. R. R.—Liberty street. Standard Steel vs. I. A. Machinists—Cedar street. Lockleys vs. Johnson Bronze—Marshall field.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

There has been an absence of skunks, that is, compared to the number of former years, this year which has caused the query: "Why?" Owen Fox, local naturalist says their absence can be ascribed to tick fever or the same tick that causes rabbit fever. Several dead skunks have been found. They contracted the disease during breeding periods, according to Fox. Wood tick attack rabbits, pheasants, horses and men. Fox asserts.

T-S Mike Coates, 427 Galbreath avenue, who helped hurl the Slovaks to the 1939 City title recently had a thrill. He pitched several innings against a leading N. L. league team. The centerfielder drew a walk and the third baseman hit a home run scoring all runners. Coates was found for seven runs, three hits and two free trips during his two innings turn on the mound for Army team. Because of censorship no additional information was given. Nevertheless, Mike had the thrill of pitching against the big leaguers.

It appears as though Manager John Soho of the Shenango Pottery is having his difficulties. One day last week only nine players appeared. It was worse yesterday. In fact, so bad that only eight players appeared and the game at West Pittsburgh could not be played. It is likely that Soho will take immediate steps to remedy this situation.

Women's Open

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—(INS)—Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia, winner of the Women's Western Amateur championship for the second straight time, and Phyllis Otto of Omaha, the runner-up, were entrants today for the All-American Women's Open at the Tam O'Shanter club starting next Monday.

They will have other notables with them, including the professionals, Patty Berg and Betty Hicks, along with such leaders in the recent women's amateur as Cann Casey of Mason City, Ia., and Mrs. H. M. Sims of Evanston, Ill. The two 20-year-olds, Miss Germain and Miss Otto, fought it out for the Western Amateur title in a 36-hole final match last Saturday at the Onwena club, the Philadelphia girl winning by a 5 and 4 margin.

CAMPFIRE CORNER

TWO WILDLIFE AGENCIES
A number of letters I've received from readers of Campfire Corner indicate there's considerable confusion in the public mind relative to two separate organizations, the Fish and Wildlife Service and the American Wildlife Institute. The misunderstandings doubtless stem from the somewhat similar titles.

The Fish and Wildlife Service is a governmental agency operating within the department of the Interior and headed by the genial Dr. Ira N. Gabrielson. Formerly its headquarters were in Washington D. C., but the exigencies of war caused removal of its offices to Chicago, where it now occupies quarters formerly leased by the national offices of the Isaac Walton League in the Merchandise Mart. The service plays an important role in administering the migratory bird laws and in disseminating information relative to the status of wildlife.

The American Wildlife Institute, which has offices at 822 Investment Building, Washington, D. C., is a nonprofit, nonpartisan corporation supported by industries, organizations and individuals.

It has three stated purposes—to encourage the co-operation and coordination of effort of all groups and individuals interested in the conservation of our natural resources; to assist in finding and presenting to the people facts about wildlife and our natural resources; and to provide facilities for training young men in the latest scientific methods of game management and conservation.

No Independent Activities
The Wildlife Institute does not conduct its activities independently, but assists others in furthering the objectives for which the Institute stands. Contrary to misinformed opinion in some quarters the Institute is not a "closed corporation," nor is it "exclusive" or ultra-swatky but welcomes to membership all individuals, organizations and businesses desirous of supporting the program. Each year the Institute sponsors finances and manages the North American Wildlife conference. All groups dedicated to conservation are represented at this conference and are afforded opportunity to express their views.

The Institute sponsors the publications of many pamphlets and books on wildlife, some for free distribution, and more elaborate works which are on sale. While the Fish and Wildlife Service and the Institute co-operate, particularly along research lines, they are otherwise independent agencies.

Game Fish Abound In Pymatuning Now

GREENVILLE, Pa., Aug. 14.—District fishermen are finding the waters of the Pymatuning reservoir, north of here, to their liking. No longer do they complain, as they did when the reservoir first opened, that there are too many carp and not enough game fish.

Record catches, especially in walleye pike, have been made this year. On a recent Sunday 21 wall-eyes were checked in at the Hogue boat landing at Espyville.

Fred Burch, who operates a dock on the Ohio side between Jamestown and Andover, reports 429 pike were caught in a two-week period. He says his record of catches shows that fishermen who know their business can have success in Pymatuning's waters.

Forty-four of the all-stars already were on hand and at practice.

Curtisville And Duquesne Tie

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 14.—Curtisville Legion and Duquesne Legion teams played a 4-4, nine-inning tie game last Saturday in the third game of their play-off series at Etna. This makes necessary a fourth game to determine the winner and this game will be played tomorrow evening at Aspinwall Veterans Hospital grounds with the proceeds going to the fund for veterans there.

VANDALISM, NOT SPORT
AKRON, O., Aug. 14.—Templeton it seems is the root of the Akron public schools' broken window problem. Some 335 school windows have been broken since vacation began. Many of the school playgrounds are covered with stones which Akron youths can't resist hurling through the school windows now that teachers aren't there to punish them.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Quick pickups along the sports trail: The nation's leading football coaches meant business recently when they agreed with Lou Little of Columbia, that the football rules should not be permitted to stagnate during the war, some of them are going to meet in New York to reach "gentlemen's agreements" on certain rules, such as the out-of-bounds kickoff. Meantime, they have been contacting each other by mail and were working out the problem to their own satisfaction and regardless of what the rules committee may think about it all. Manager Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees, persists in insisting that Snuffy Stirrweiss is a better man than Bobby Doerr, of the Boston Red Sox. McCarthy may be right, but it will be noticed upon inspection that Doerr is leading the American league in hitting besides remaining one of the game's finest infielders.

Watch Nicholson
Mr. Swish Nicholson, of the Chicago Cubs, is a virtual cinch to wind up as the National League's most valuable player. He is going to be the runs batted in and home run king of both major leagues according to his present pace.

The St. Louis Browns! Who look more and more like American League pennant winners every day offer further evidence that there is no way of telling exactly what a winning combination might be. They are way down in hitting and fielding yet have just had a 10-game winning streak snapped after taking two straight from the Yankees.

The Browns have moved to Boston to meet the challenge of the second place Red Sox, who have kept pace since the Browns came east to tangle with the Yankees. While the Browns were beating the Yanks twice, the Red Sox were taking two from the Chicago White Sox, then when the Browns lost Friday the Red Sox blew to the Chicago visitors.

The Red Sox have lost Tex Hughson, who won 18 games, and are due to be deprived soon of the services of several others being called by Uncle Sam, and that won't help them any to speak of. Whether or not they are to retain a fighting chance for the pennant will be determined by the forthcoming series with the pace-setters.

Cosmo Club Has Family Outing

Rambler's Rest Scene Of Annual Basket Picnic Sunday For Organization

A large crowd of the Cosmo members and their families enjoyed a family basket picnic Sunday at Rambler's Rest, with sports events being featured.

After the delicious meal in early afternoon, sports and contests were featured. Fanny Rose being winner of the egg race; Joe Greenburg, Sr., the 100 yard dash; Joe Greenburg, Jr., 100 yard dash for 12 year old; Howard Myers 50 yard dash for 16 year old; Miss Wolfe ball throwing, 200 yards; fat men's race over 50. Eddie Meyers. War stamps were given as prizes.

A special feature was the tug of war by the married and single men, won by the single men; and the mushball game also won by the single men.

Sam Cohen was in charge of entertainment, and Dave Rosenblum, conducted the sports events.

Dainty refreshments were served afterwards, and from all reports, this year's outing proved successful in every way.

The little bows in the inside of men's hats are retained from the time when hats were made in only a few sizes. To adapt them to sizes a string was woven around the inside of the hat which could be drawn up or loosened. The bow has been retained because it serves to distinguish between the back and the front of the hat.

Jon Hall Denies Making Any Passes At Dorsey's Wife

However, Actor Hall Has $100,000 Libel Suit All Drawn Up Ready To File

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 14.—(INS)—Actor Jon Hall declared today that he had a $100,000 libel suit drawn up and waiting as an outcome of the famous battle in Bandleader Tommy Dorsey's swank Sunset Strip apartment ten days ago, and which is now in various stages of legal inquiry.

"If I did Dane (Mrs. Tommy Dorsey) tells the district attorney I made a pass at her. I will file a $100,000 libel suit against Dorsey," the actor said after conferring with his attorney, Rosalind Bates.

Mrs. Dorsey is scheduled to appear in the district attorney's office today to tell her version of the events leading up to the fight on her Sunset Plaza apartment balcony.

Hopes For Truth

Hall added that "if Pat Dane tells the truth I won't have to sue."

Dorsey's claim that Hall precipitated the fight by embracing Mrs. Dorsey was denied vigorously by Hall.

"My hand did not wander from her shoulder," he declared.

Mrs. Bates explained:

"If we do file suit it will be painful to everyone concerned. If Mrs. Dorsey will just explain that her husband was drunk and called up later to apologize, Mr. Hall will be exonerated and we can forget the whole mess."

Mrs. Bates said that Hall, who was cut about the face and head in the melee, "has a dozen witnesses to prove he was a gentleman."

Dorsey has already been served with a $40,000 damage suit by Antonio Icaza, Panama-born actor, as a result of the fracas.

Gas Fumes Cause Shamokin Blast

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Aug. 14.—(INS)—An explosion of gas fumes that a discharged sailor had inhaled to commit suicide rocked Shamokin early today and injured Patrolman Emmet Golden, who accidentally touched off the blast.

Authorities, who identified the ex-sailor as Raymond O. Kaseman, 38, steward of Independence Fire association, said Golden had entered the station to make a periodic report and accidentally touched off the blast when he turned a light switch. Golden, who was blown down a flight of stairs, was rushed to the Shamokin State hospital for treatment.

The explosion, which was heard eight miles away and wrecked the fire station and adjacent buildings, occurred about 1:45 a. m.

When firemen chipped through the debris they found Kaseman's body. The ex-sailor was discharged from service recently because of a nervous condition.

Secretary Forrestal At Italian Confab

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—(INS)—A picture released by the Army Signal Corps disclosed today that Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal is among the Allied leaders now visiting the Italian war zone.

The Navy had no comment immediately on Forrestal's visit, but presumably he was there to confer with American and Allied leaders, conducted the sports events.

Dainty refreshments were served afterwards, and from all reports, this year's outing proved successful in every way.

St. Vitus Church Anniversary Tuesday

Thirty-Eighth Year For Fr. Nicholas DeMita Shows Record Of Progress

Tuesday, August 15, is the Feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, and is a holy day of obligation to be observed by all Catholics.

But for St. Vitus church the day holds a double significance for on that day, in 1906, the cornerstone of St. Vitus church was laid, and a year afterwards, August 15, 1907, the dedication of the new church was held.

Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor is today celebrating 38 years as pastor of the church. Throughout the years he has worked faithfully and the great accomplishments can be seen, for from the first small church with a seating capacity of 150, the church today is newly decorated, enlarged to a seating capacity of 650. The efforts of Father DeMita have been untiring, as all his parishioners well know. To those who are included in the Italian settlement, and who are faithful church members, the progress made yearly can easily be noted. And all this has been made through the efforts of Father DeMita.

Assisting him at the church are Rev. Fr. Albert Inteso and Rev. Fr. Dante DeLillo.

Masses on Tuesday morning will be at 6 for working people; 7:30 and 9 o'clock for the children. At this mass the Casa Savoia society will again have their flag blessed, an annual custom since the start of the organization on August 15.

A triduum in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary started at the church Sunday evening, with services being conducted at 7:30 o'clock and followed with prayers for peace. This evening services are being conducted in conjunction with the Vigil of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, and tomorrow evening triduum services will be held in conjunction with St. Anthony devotions.

The shrine of the Blessed Virgin Mary is being beautifully arranged for the occasion in order that Catholics may properly observe this great Feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Historic Chateau Used By Rommel Visited By Huss

EDITOR'S NOTE—In the following eyewitness account, International News Service Staff Correspondent Pierre J. Huss describes a visit through an ancient French chateau used by the Germans to draw their anti-invasion campaigns at the same time as Allied commanders in earlier years mapped their strategy against the Hun.

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NORTH OF LE MANS, France, Aug. 11—7 P. M.—(Delayed)—From the ornate second-floor library of an historic chateau at the edge of Le Mans, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel plotted for hours with the German high command to smash the Allied invasion.

He used the same house and even the same table where Gen. John J. Pershing sat in 1918 with 40 American staff officers. In 1939, Lord Gort arrived secretly at that same chateau as Allied commander with his staff before the current war actually began. When Hitler marched across the Polish frontier, it was from that chateau that Lord Gort directed the anti-billz operations with the Duke of Gloucester occupying an adjoining chamber.

Inspect Chateau

Chasing along after the Germans with an American unit, I received an invitation from the owner, Madame La Comtesse Meinier Du Houssoix to inspect the residential Nazi headquarters, around which the Doughboys quickly threw a guard.

The 78-year old Comtesse, whose husband died in 1938, was a friend of illustrious Americans, in 1940 the Germans started looting her home—but were frustrated—with the exception of a few ancient gold coins—because the highest-ranking Wehrmacht officers requisitioned the building.

On July 2, 1942, a General Von Dollmann was appointed German commander of western France under Field Marshal Karl Gerd Von Rundstedt. Dollmann was a severe Prussian officer who behaved correctly and did no entertaining except for officials and such guests as Von Rundstedt, Rommel and others of the high staff, his younger officers resented this and also grumbled because he restrained any mixing with the French, insisting that they must all be treated with suspicion.

Dollmann did most of his work in the chateau library, oak-paneled and hung with a score of gold-framed royal paintings, including one of Louis XIV as a child, and valuable 16th century tapestries. Delicate chinaware added to his surroundings, along with a beautiful framed mirror and hundreds of precious volumes, some of which stood on an oblong table on which both Allied and German commanders have plotted their battles.

View Of Le Mans Cathedral

In the background was a sweeping view of the meadows and forests nearby and the Le Mans Cathedral.

On invasion night commotion was marked. Dollmann motored away hurriedly and returned, then repeated the process many times until by the end of a few weeks he appeared badly worn. Later his officers gossiped that he had been found dead at headquarters in Le Mans, officially a suicide but actually made the goat of the failure to halt the Allied drive. With the coming of Hitler's purge, about which they hinted in advance, many of the headquarters officers, including Rundstedt, were recalled to Germany and a few days later the chateau was vacated.

But it was during last March that the chateau really bustled. Extra guards were posted, an army photographer raced to the scene and a few minutes later Rommel drove up.

Rommel visited the chateau after the invasion on four successive weeks; Von Rundstedt came as often as twice a week all through the last year. Once Reichsmarschal Hermann Goering attended one of the regular German high command war councils and rumors circulated that Hitler also was present, but this could not be confirmed.

County Auto Deaths Show Minor Increase

One More Death Is Reported For First Six Months Of 1944 Than For Last Year

In keeping with the general tendency throughout most of the state, statistics of automobile accident fatalities in Lawrence county for the first six months of 1944 show an increase of one over the same period of last year, according to a report of the Bureau of Highway Safety.

The added death, bringing the number from seven to eight, occurred in an urban area of the county. The only other change was a decrease of one in the number of pedestrians killed in rural areas and an increase of one in the number killed in urban areas, with the total remaining the same.

Thirty-One Show Increases
Thirty other counties have reported increases of from one to eight while twenty-four show decreases. Multi-fatal accidents are unusually frequent this year. So far, six accidents, in each of which two persons were killed, have occurred.

Although the records for July are not yet completed, there have been at least two accidents in which pedestrians were killed in each accident and six fatal bicycle accidents have occurred. One accident took the lives of two youngsters riding one bicycle on the wrong side of the road without lights.

When the 71 fatalities for the month of June are added to the first five months' total, the number of deaths for the first six months reach 570, seven more than for the corresponding period of 1943. Of this number, 308 were pedestrians the report stated.
